

AMIYA'S MOBILE DANCE ACADEMY "DANCE STUDIO ON WHEELS"

(248) 483-3262 www.amiyasdancebus.com

Introducing Amiya's Mobile Dance Academy and the Big Pink Bus, in hopes that we can begin to form a friendship!

Amiya's dream of graduating from Harvard University and becoming an obstetrician was the stimulus for starting this company. At 9 years of age, she developed a business plan, enlisted the help of family and began a quest to spread her passion for dance while maintaining sight of her goals. Amiya, being from an urban locale, knows the hardships that plague the citizens and compassionately strives to make dance available to all, no matter what their economic state. Thus, she offers free demonstrations and bus showings, constantly volunteers her services at fund raising events and is currently waiting for non-profit status to establish scholarships and further increase contributions and donations.

AMDA offers quality dance lessons in Ballet, Tap, Jazz, Hip Hop and Salsa with knowledgeable instructors all in a studio that comes to you! We can provide custom packages to fit all needs and are happy to adjust lessons to accommodate all learning levels. Classes are offered to children ages 2 and up and are limited to a maximum of 15 participants on the bus at a time.

For more detailed information, visit our website and be sure to view the footage from Fox 2 News! Take a moment to also view Amiya at Youtube.com/user/amiyadancebus and see for yourself the talented, thriving, passionate 10 year old entrepreneur.

We look forward to hearing from you and perhaps having an enjoyable experience with Amiya and the Mobile Dance Bus!

Sincerely,

Kathleen Boyce
AMDA Director

"We bring the studio to you!"

My name is future dancing doctor Amiya J. Alexander. Please allow me this opportunity to introduce you to one of the world's youngest entrepreneurs. I am a 5th grader and my company is Amiya's Mobile Dance Academy. This is the one and only dance studio on wheels! I would like to ask you to be a part of my vision and the growing of my company, by contributing your prayers, support and mentorship.

Although I am not a wealthy or a well known celebrity, please allow me this opportunity to share my success with you. People always put us on the television for negative things, but I have something positive to share. Every child deserves a chance to grow and become a positive person. I told my mom on September 6, 2008 at 1:02am about my business plan. I told her I would like to help her, as a single mother, by opening my own business like her. My goal as you can see on my website is to share my dance talent with younger children, focusing on underserved communities. My friends would tell me "Amiya, you know our parents can't afford it". So my job is to teach them beginner classes at a discounted rate.

My mom met with a patent attorney and now my idea has a patent pending so that nobody can steal my idea. My ultimate goal is to save money from "AMDA" to go to Harvard Medical School and to become an Obstetrician. My mom is a registered nurse and one day I plan to be her boss, and have her work for me as my nurse and run my practice.

In conclusion, I hope this letter has reached your hands and you will respond to my vision. Your response will be greatly appreciated. When you are in the "Motor City", visit the Mobile Dance Bus. Thank You!

In The Spirit Of Dance,

Amiya J. Alexander

Biography
“Rising Stars”

Amiya J. Alexander, in her 10 short years, has led a diverse, enriched and goal driven life accomplished through structure, hard work and commitment to succeed.

Attending flexible schools that allow freedom to explore and the means to achieve, she thrived in the academic areas of mathematics, sciences and language arts and socially rose to mentor, motivate and encourage her peers. Being especially fond of anatomy, Amiya has set her sights on attending Harvard Medical School to become an Obstetrician, ultimately having her own practice and becoming the boss of her mother, who is a registered nurse. A personal dream is to be the next Dr. Ben Carson or Dr. Charles Drew.

Amiya’s dance training began when she was only 2 years of age and she has since attended and excelled at studios all across the nation. She is trained and talented in the dance styles of Ballet, Tap, Jazz, Lyrical, African, Flamenco, Salsa and Hip Hop. Amiya believes in herself and practices very hard to be as great as Debbie Allen and Alvin Ailey.

With lofty goals such as these, Amiya awoke on September 6, 2008, at 1:02 am and revealed her creative business plan to her mother. She stated she wanted to open her own business by buying a bus, painting it pink and remodeling the inside by removing the seats and installing a dance floor, mirrors and ballet barres. Thus, the beginning of the first and only, patent pending, mobile dance school.

Amiya’s desire to focus on underserved communities, offers quality instruction at affordable rates. Her mission is to develop creativity, discipline, motivation and self-confidence that all children need to conquer the challenges in today’s society. She endeavors to instill in AMDA students these attributes and expects them to achieve both artistically and academically so they may become well-rounded citizens who will understand what it takes to be a successful leader in both the arts and society.
